WITH GOOD FARES.

First of the LeHave Summer Bank Fleet Reaches Halifax.

Laden to the water line with fish, two crack vessels of the LaHave, N. S., fleet, sch. Falcon, Capt. Walters, and the Ungava, Capt. Hubley, arrived in Halifax Wednesday evening from Quero Banks, en route to their home port. These vessels are among the first of the fleet to return from the summer trip and both have made exceptionally good catches. Capt. Walters has been out for twelve weeks, and has on board 1250 quintals of salt cod. Capt. Hubley, of the Ungava, has been out about the same length of time, and is taking home 1300 quintals. They report that other vessels of the LaHave fleet were making good catches.

NOVA SCOTIA COD.

Big Fare of Sch. Clintonia Sold to Gorton-Pew Company.

The large fishing sch. Clintonia of LaHave, N. S., arrived at her home port a few days ago from a trawl salt bank trip, with a fine fare of 300,000 pounds of salt cod. The trip was offered for sale on this market and was bought by the Gorton-Pew Fisheries Co. at $3.50 per hundred weight for large, $3 for mediums and $2 for snappers. The vessel is now on the way here and is expected here today or tomorrow.

Plenty of Herring at Provincetown

The Provincetown Cold Storage Co. telephoned this morning that the traps there had made big hauls and taken fully 2500 or 3000 barrels of large herring.

SCARCITY OF FRESH FISH.

But One Trip at Boston Today and That a Small One.

There is a fresh fish famine at T wharf this morning, for instead of the usual and looked-for 20 or 30 arrivals, just one trip is there, the market fisherman Victor and Ethan and in consequence, a trip generally work $400 or so will easily bring close to $1000. Besides sch. Victor and Ethan there are five small swordfish trips there, selling at 12 cents per pound. Haddock and cod are selling at $6.25 per hundred weight.

HAUL OFF MONHEGAN.

Sch. Dauntless at Portland Today with 6000 Fresh Mackerel.

Seining Fleet Now Out Numbers About Thirty Sail.

A few mackerel are showing on the Maine coast. Sch. Dauntless, Capt. John Matheson, of this port, arrived this morning with 6000 fresh mackerel and was offered 20 cents each for them. Capt. Matheson reports that he got his haul yesterday off Monhegan, but there did not seem to be any great body of the fish. Thirteen sail of the fleet were there but sch. Dauntless was the only one to get a school. The fish run one-third large.

Postals received from some of the seiners yesterday dated at Souris, P. E. I., report several vessels there a few days ago on account of being blowy weather. Sch. Diana got a small school before it breezed up. They report the fish large and very fat.

At present the mackerel seining fleet out at sea number 30 sail.

The following vessels have gone to North Bay: Schs. Victor, Diana, Ralph L. Hall, Hattie M. Graham, Lena and Maud, Madonna, Priscilla Smith, Pinta, Patrician, Parthia and Oriole.

The following seiners are fishing on the shore: Schs. Dauntless, Annie Greenlaw, Helen G. Martin, Illinois, Grayling, Arthur James, Clintonia, Constellation, Electric Flash, Esperanto, George Parker, Mary E. Harty, Nellie Dixon, Saladin, Squanto, Speculator, Elmer E. Gray and Thomas J. Carroll.

The mackerel landed at Newport, R. I., yesterday by the three seiners were very small and would mesh in the twine. They would go, salted, from 1000 to 1200 to a barrel, and there are any amount of them out there. They sold fresh at 2 1/2-8 cents per pound.

Capt. Solomon Jacobs is fitting sch. A. M. Nicholson for another mackerel seining trip and will probably sail today. He proposes to go to the southward for a couple of weeks and then go to the bay.

Sept. 1.

SEINERS AT SOURIS.

American Captains Hopeful of Getting Fares in North Bay.

A letter to the Times this noon, dated at Souris, P. E. I., dated Thursday, says that American seiners, schs. Victor, Hattie M. Graham, Diana and Oriole arrived there on that date and that their skippers think there are mackerel in North Bay and are hopeful of getting fares. Some mackerel are reported on the north side of the island, west of second Chapel. Capt. Kent and the Dominion Fish Protection cruiser Petrel off Souris.

Sept. 1.

WITH NICE FARE.

Sch. Mina Swim Home from Short Dory Handline Trip.

Sch. Mina Swim, Capt. Colin Nickerson, arrived this morning from a dory handline cod fishing trip to Quero bank with a nice fare, 90,000 pounds of salt cod, caught in a short time.

The vessel left here July 16, and when first on the bank did little because the fish did not take bait and they had no slickers. After that they did well, and two weeks ago today started for home, but were obliged to put in at a Nova Scotia port for medical treatment for Capt. Nickerson, who was suffering with blood poisoning in his arm.

Capt. Nickerson reports that the dory handliners he had seen had done fairly well. Regarding the depredations of the steam trawlers, he makes the same report as did Capt. Geel of sch. Tattler, which was published in yesterday's Times.

Sept. 1.

SUCCESSFUL WHALERS.

San Francisco, Sept. 1.—Advices from the Arctic state that twenty-five whales have been captured at the stations of Point Barrow, Point Hope and St. Lawrence island. Nearly all the vessels of the whaling fleet did well in the spring, and it is thought large catches will be reported when they return from their cruise to the westward.

Sept. 1.

More Big Prices at Boston.

Big prices are again the rule at Boston today, cod and haddock selling at from $4.50 to $5.50 per hundred weight, with pollock at from $3 to $3.50, hake going from $2.50 to $4. Sch. Emily Sears has a fine trip of pollock, 20,000 pounds, and there are four small pollock trips. Of the shore fleet sch. Athena has 25,000 pounds of fresh fish and sch. Oliver Hutchins 19,000 pounds. Sch. Raymah, from South Channel, has 44,000 pounds and the steam trawler Spray has the high line fare, 61,000 pounds. All will make fine trips.

REGULAR GLUT TODAY.Reversal of Yesterday's Condition Today at T Wharf.

Things change quickly in the fish business. Yesterday forenoon it was a fish famine at T wharf, Boston, today there is an over supply, with 36 vessels arriving since last report. Some of the channel vessels are well fished, sch. Catherine and Ellen being the top liner with 108,000 pounds, and all the shore boats have good trips.

The price dropped quickly, in fact it went very low, as haddock sold for $1.50 per hundred weight.

Sept. 2.

FINE LOOKING CRAFT.British Sch. Clintonia at This Port with Salt Cod Fare.*Experts Pass Favorably on Her Lines and Trim Rig.

The British sch. Clintonia, Capt. Mack, of Lunenburg, N. S., arrived at this port yesterday afternoon with a fine fare of salt trawl bank cod, 300,000, which are sold to Gorton-Pew Fisheries Co.

The vessel has a fine fare of fish, starting at caplin time and winding up with some big fishing on Quero bank. The fish were cared for with the idea of selling to the American market.

Capt. Mack is one of the leaders of the Nova Scotia salt bank skippers and has many friends here who are glad to see him.

Sch. Clintonia is a handsome, finely rigged craft, built off the lines of the famous sch. Clintonia of this port, and the many who critically inspected her yesterday passed favorable judgment on her appearance.

Being foreign salt fish, there is a duty of three-quarters of a cent per pound on the fare, which will be paid at the local custom house.

Sept. 2.

Fine Trip.

Sch. Titania, Capt. Patrick Vale, arrived this noon from dory handline trip to Quero bank, with a fine fare, hailing for in the vicinity of 240,000 pounds of salt cod. The vessel sailed from here May 27 and the fare will go to Sylvanus Smith & Co., owners of the vessel.

WESTERN FISHERMEN.Gloucester Men Did Not Fare Well on Pacific Coast.*Paid According to Individual Catch, But Do Not Dress Fish.

The Anacortes American of August 27 has the following account of the arrival home of the two Behring Sea salt bank codfishermen, Joseph Russ and Alice, of the Robinson Fisheries Co. of that place.

As Mr. Robinson is a former Gloucester man and two years ago last spring some 40 fishermen were induced to leave here and go in these vessels, believing that they could make more money and not have so much work, we print the article in full, knowing that it will not only be of general interest but to the discerning vessel owner, skipper and fisherman a chance to see the truth of the old saying, "when a fisherman leaves Gloucester to make more money fishing he makes a mistake," we publish the article entire.

It reads as follows:

"With 1,563,000 pounds of codfish and 60 barrels of codfish tongues aboard and with a crew of 35 men on each vessel, the Robinson Fisheries Co.'s codfish schooners arrived in port this week, sch. Alice arriving at 1.30 Sunday afternoon and sch. Joseph Russ at 1.20 Monday afternoon, both having been 16 days under way from Behring Sea.

"Both sailed from Anacortes on March 28 and experienced rough weather on the trip up. Neither began fishing till May 2 and more than half the catch was taken in the month of May, there being less than two weeks fishing in June owing to rough weather. Sch. Joseph Russ was in command of Capt. Charles Foss and sch. Alice was in charge of Capt. John McInnis, and both have been signed for next year.

"Each vessel has a dress gang of 12 men who dressed all the fish. The Russ took north 235 tons of salt and the Alice 220 tons. Sherman Pennell of the Russ packed 50 barrels of codfish tongues, for which he received $6 a barrel. The Alice had ten barrels of tongues. The Russ has 193,000 fish, the average weight of which will be about four and one-fourth pounds, or a total of 820,000 pounds.

"The Alice has 165,000 fish, averaging fully four and one-half pounds, or a total of 743,000 pounds, making a grand total of 358,000 fish, weighing 1,563,000 pounds. One of the dressed fish on the Alice weighed 28 pounds, another 27 12 pounds and several 25 pounds or more. They averaged larger than ever before.

"The high lines on sch. Joseph Russ were: First Mate Sam Ostman, 14,919 fish; George Blackwell, 12,214; Second Mate Oscar Olsen, 12,070; H. Soderberg, 11,714; Emil Isakson, 11,323; H. Kremin, 11,203; Oscar Hansen, 11,168; Robert Pringle, 11,041.

"Pringle gets salary as watchman in addition to pay for his catch. The first mate gets $40 and the second mate $35 per 1000 for fish. The others get $25 per thousand for a catch of 8000 or less, $27.50, for 8000 to 10,000, and $30 for over 10,000.

The high lines on the sch. Alice were: Second Mate Hans Olson, 12,926 fish; First Mate Norman McLeod, 12,039; Chris Norvick, 10,908; Freeman P. Thorburn, 10,487.

"The fishermen do nothing but catch the fish, the dress gang taking care of the catch on board ship. All are provided with good food and all equipment, except their personal effects.

"Sch. Alice is now discharging cargo and thirty-five men are employed in the work and taking care of the fish. It will take 20 days to unload both vessels. The pack will be in brine for ten days or two weeks. Some of it will be worked up beginning September 3 to supply rush orders."
